Giles Stevens, an old resident of Reedsburg, Sauk Co., Wis. was born September 15th, 1833, in the town of Wright, Schoharie County, New York. His father was Samuel B. Stevens, a farmer in comfortable circumstances, who in his later years owned and operated a flouring mill. His mother's maiden name was Permelia Tripp. He received his education in the district school and in Schoharie Academy, and after graduating, began reading law in the office of Goodyear & Martin at Schoharie Court House, Schoharie County, New York, and afterwards in the office of Houck & Mackey at the same place. In October, 1853, Mr. Stevens came to Wisconsin and located at Baraboo, Sauk Co. where he opened a law office, in partnership with J. S. Tripp, under the name of Tripp & Stevens. The next year, in July, 1854, he removed to Reedsburg and formed a partnership with J. Mackey under the firm name of Mackey & Stevens. In 1857 he formed a partnership with Wm. Miles under the firm name of Stevens & Miles. This partnership continued until September, 1861, when Mr. Stevens organized Co. B, Twelfth Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, at Reedsburg, and went to the civil war with the company. He participated in the battles and skirmishes at Lamar, Fernando, Coldwater, Hatchie river, Siege of Vicksburg, Baker's Creek and Jackson, in the State of Mississippi, and at Big Shanty, Kenesaw Mountain, Nick-a-Jack Creek, Bald Hill and Atlanta, in the State of Georgia. On his return from the war, he re-opened his law office at Reedsburg, and has ever since practiced his profession alone, with the exception of three years (1867, 1868 and 1869) when he was in partnership with W. A. Wyse, under the firm name of Stevens & Wyse. Mr. Stevens has always been a democrat but he disagreed so decidedly with his party when the National Convention of 1896 adopted the so-called "Chicago platform" that he has since been without party affiliations. He served as county surveyor during the years 1855 and 1856 and was county judge of Sauk County from 1878 to 1882, inclusive. He never was a member of any society or club except the Masonic bodies, neither has he been a member of any church. Mr. Stevens has been a Mason for over forty-seven years. He received the Symbolic degrees in Reedsburg Lodge No. 79 (now Ironton Lodge No. 79) at Reedsburg, Wis.

in the winter of 1857-8, and the Capitular and Cryptic degrees in Baraboo Valley Chapter No. 49, and its Council of Royal and Select Masters, during the winter of 1879-80. The Orders of Knighthood were conferred upon him in St. John Commandery No. 21, at Reedsburg, during the winter of 1891-2. He has filled all the offices of the "Blue Lodge" except Treasurer and Tyler, the offices of King and Secretary in Reedsburg Chapter No. 56, and the offices of Captain General and Eminent Commander in St. John Commandery No. 21. He has also been Warder, Junior Warden, Captain General and Generalissimo of the Grand Commandery of Wisconsin, Deputy Grand Commander and Grand Commander. As a citizen, for uprightness, honesty and integrity, none stand higher than Judge Stevens, kind and helpful to all who come in contact with him, and in his home life considerate and good to all of his household.

GALLUP.

The name is derived from the German, Gott and Lobe, meaning God and praise.

John, a son of John Gallup and Mary Crabbe, was born in England, who was a son of Thos. and Agnes (Watkins) Gallup of North Bowood and Strode, and the descendants of Gallup Sr., still occupy the manor of Strode.

John 2nd came to America with his son John 3rd, March 20, 1630, in the ship Mary and John, from the parish of Mostene, County of Dorset. He owned Monumental Island, where he pastured sheep. He and his son were engaged in the first battle on the Atlantic coast, where they overtook the Indians for the cruel murder of the Rev. Mr. Oldham, killing some and capturing the rest. He died in 1649.

John Gallup 3rd was born in England, 1615. Came to Boston, March 20, 1630, and was one of the first to come to what is now Stonnington, Conn. He, as well as his father, was a renowned Indian trader, and fighter. Capt. Gallup commanded warriors under Harmon's Co. in 1675, and distinguished himself by his bravery and fidelity to the English. He came to Pequot in 1651, and in 1654 moved to the Mystic. He also joined an expedition under Col. Dennison against the Indians in Narragansett, where he performed good service. As an officer he was much loved and respected by his men, and was one of the six captains slain in the terrible swamp fight against King Phillip, Dec. 19, 1675. He married Hannah, daughter of John and Margaret Winthrop Lake, 1643. (Madam Margaret Lake was a sister of Gov. Winthrop, of Conn., and daughter of Gov. Winthrop, of Mass., and was the first white woman in New London Co., Conn. All honor to Margaret Lake, who braved the storm and hardships, and trod the land of our fair heritage). The children of John Gallup were: John, born 1646, married 1st Elizabeth Harris; 2nd, Hannah Frink; Elizabeth, born 1648, married Henry Stevens 1670; Esther, born 1653, married Henry Hodges; Ben Adam born 1655, married Hester Prentiss; Hannah born 1644, married Stephen Gifford, 1672; Wm. born 1658; married Sarah Cheesbrough; Christobel, born 1660, married Peter Creary; Samuel born 1662, died; Margaret born 1664, married Nicholas Stevens; Mary born 1666, married John Colver. John Gallup left to widow Hannah, £100, to John £137, to Ben Adam £90, Wm. and Samuel £89 each, daughters £70 each.

MILES.

Timothy Miles was one of the first settlers of Vermont. He married Theoda Blodgett and settled near Bennington, where he owned a large farm. The Indians were very troublesome and during one of the massacres he, with others, was taken prisoner and sent to Canada, where he was held for two years. His wife, not knowing what had become of him, sent for her father, who took her and her two daughters, Betsey and Nancy, to his home in Barnet; here she soon gave birth to a son, whom she named Timothy, but being a frail boy he only lived to be 17 years old. After two years Timothy Miles, Sr., was released and he and his wife moved to Barnet, where they lived to be very old, and where their other children, John and Ebenezer were born. Nancy Miles born in Barnet, Vt., 1800, died in Ill., Mar. 20, 1870; married James Stevens, Dec. 12, 1820.

Mrs. Miles was a woman of rare capabilities, full of fun, and of great courage, staying alone for days while her husband was away from home on business.

David Henry Tripp, senior member of the firm of D. H. Tripp & Son, booksellers and stationers of Peoria, Illinois, was born in Decatur, Otsego County, New York, on the 24th of November, 1828. He came to Illinois in the spring of 1851 and since the fall of that year has resided continuously in Peoria. He has been prominently identified with the business interests of the city for half a century and none stand higher in financial circles than he. From 1860 to December, 1901, the name of the firm was D. H. Tripp & Co., but in the latter year Capt. S. S. Tripp who had been the company of the concern withdrew and Mr. D. H. Tripp's oldest son took his place and the firm name was changed to its present one of D. H. Tripp & Son.

On the 29th of September, 1853, Mr. Tripp was married to Miss Mary Tripp of Farmingdale. They have five children living, two daughters and three sons, four of them in the City of Peoria, Ill., and the other in Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. Tripp was one of the best known and most prominent Masons in Illinois. In the fall of 1853 he was elected and received the degrees conferred in Temple Lodge No. 46, A. F. & A. M., since which time he has continued a member thereof and is at this date, December 19, 1904, probably the oldest member who was made a Mason in that lodge. He held important offices with Peoria Chapter No. 7, Peoria Council No. 11, Royal and Select Masters, Peoria Commandery No. 3, K. T., and the Peoria Consistory. He was a charter member of St. Helena Conclave of Red Cross Knights of Constantine, and also of Mohammed Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Of this latter order, Mr. Tripp was made Treasurer at the time of its organization and held the office until 1902, when he was obliged to resign it on account of failing health.

Mr. Tripp retired from active business and enjoyed the fruits of an honorable and upright life, loved and respected by all who know him.

Jedediah S. Tripp, son of Silas and Martha Ann (Stephens) Tripp, was born in the town of Duaneburg, Schoenectady County, in the State of New York, July 5th, 1828. He worked on his father's farm, attending the district school during the winters until he was eighteen years old, when he went to the Schoharie Academy at Schoharie, N. Y., teaching school part of the time to get the means for paying expenses. He continued in the academy acting part of the time as a tutor until the spring of 1850, when he entered the law office of Goodyear Martin, in Schoharie, N. Y., where he continued reading law until June, 1853, when he was admitted to the bar at a General Term of the Supreme Court at Albany, N. Y. In November, 1853, he went to Wisconsin and located at Baraboo, in that state, entering into partnership with his cousin, Giles Stevens, now Judge Stevens, of Reedsburg, Wisconsin. This partnership was dissolved in the spring of 1854, and in September of that year he went to Sauk City, in said county of Sauk, and entered into partnership with Cyrus Leland. This partnership continued for about two years, after which he continued the law practice alone. In 1868 he commenced doing a banking business, in connection with his law practice, but retired from law practice in 1887, since which time he has confined his attention to the banking business.

He was postmaster of Sauk City from 1854 to 1861, was town clerk of the town of Prairie du Sac, then embracing the villages of Sauk City and Prairie du Sac, for twenty years consecutively, was president of the village of Prairie du Sac, member of the county board of Supervisors of Sauk county much of the time for the last thirty years, and several times chairman thereof. He was member of the Wisconsin Assembly in 1862, was a delegate to the national democratic convention at Cincinnati in 1880. He has been an independent democrat since the advent of W. J. Bryan in 1896. He was a charter member of Eureka Lodge No. 113, A. F. & A. M. of which lodge he is still a member. He has resided in Prairie du Sac, Wis. since 1873.

He is not a member of any church, but is a regular attendant at and liberal contributor to the Presbyterian church of Prairie du Sac, of which he is a trustee.

He was first married in 1857 to Fannie W. Hallett of Little Falls, N. Y. She died in 1865. He was again married in 1874 to Nellie M. Waterbury, daughter of Hon. James I. Waterbury of Prairie du Sac, Wis., by whom he had one son who died in infancy. His second wife died in 1893.

SOULE.

The name Soule is of English origin with armorial bearings. Guillaume, meaning banner displayed. Armors granted the Soules 1591. In the history of Normandy, it says that Guillaume de Soule, held and owned Chateau de Soule during the reign of Henry II, and it is still owned by the Soule descendants. Geo. Soule, 1590, who was a passenger on the Mayflower was a member of Gov. Winslow's family but how related is not known, but the love they had for each other continued all through life. He was born in 1590, married Mary Becket in 1625. He was a man of distinction even in the days of plain living and plain speaking, and held his own as a citizen where essential services were needed. Everything held in the way of office was on his own probity and integrity, a wielding of his own personal power, which was felt his whole life long. He made his record as one of the volunteers, to aid those of Mass. Bay and community, against the Pequod Indians. In 1637 a garden place was granted him to lye his grounds at Powder Point. He with Standish, Alden, Winslow, Brewster, Howland, Eaton and Brown, settled at Duxbury, 1637. They were each granted 69 acres of land, as members of Plymouth Colony. They were all men of highest respectability, and took active part in the affairs of the colony. He was Duputy Gov. in 1645-46-50-51-53-54. He died in 1680, and was buried at Duxbury, Mass. His wife died 1677. He was a stockholder of Pilgrim Suez Co., and also had an interest in Mass. Bay Colony. His cottage was fortified against the Indians, and under the eaves of the garret were hidden china galore, ebony desks and all sorts of eastern stuffs, gathered by the Soules, as they were emphatically men of the sea. Was 35th signer on board the Mayflower 1620.
